THE PROJECT

AT A GLANCE

Washed by the crisp waters of the Saronic Gulf, at the southern suburb of Voula, CASABLANCA finds itself at the buzzing heart of the fabled Athenian Riviera.

Nested on Asklipiou Street, a beautiful residential address that ends up on Poseidonos Avenue, CASABLANCA is an ultra luxurious development with a unique design that masterfully taps onto the more artistic flow of the city.

Fluid curves grace the skyline with an impactful futuristic structure that spreads across a strategically located plot.

a sculpture to live in

Its three units stretch comfortably, bringing elegant living to a completely fresh incarnation of contemporary and sustainable architecture.

Blurring the lines between sculpture and structure, a soft and rounded façade floats above the city, celebrating the warm Athenian sun as it reflects its golden hues on the interiors of CASABLANCA's three striking apartments.

Each carrying its own tailor-made scenario, together they create a tale of exquisite discipline. The front walls of the units are nothing less than massive glass windows, opening up to the incredible views of the scenery, while taking in the abundant gifts of Greece's all-year mild conditions.

VOULA

THE GEM OF THE ATHENIAN RIVIERA

The proximity to the sea, the attractive landscape and the ongoing development of the Athens Riviera classify the overall area as a prime location, making it popular with high income residents.

Voula is attractive to high-income buyers thanks to its high-standard architecture, large detached houses and villas, low building factor, high percentage of private and municipal green, and an outstanding urban design.

Voula provides easy access to the centre of Athens, and is adjacent to Glyfada, the main business and retail center of the Athenian Riviera, to the northwest and Vouliagmeni, the home of the most luxurious hotels in the country - the Four Seasons Astir Palace, to the south.
